Basil Cheese Torta with Red Bell Pepper Strips and Pine Nuts

---

Yield: 12 servings

1/2 pound cream cheese, softened
4 tablespoons butter, softened
3/4 cup basil pesto
1/2 pound Provolone, thinly sliced
1/4 cup pine nuts, toasted

1 small jar sun-dried tomatoes (packed in olive oil)
Fresh basil for garnish

Mix cream cheese and butter with a fork; add pesto and mix well.

Line a small (3-cup) loaf pan or bowl with plastic wrap, leaving several inches of overhang on each side. Make a thin layer of provolone slices on the bottom and partially up the sides. Spread 1/3 of the pesto mixture over the cheese; artistically arrange 2 or 3 sun-dried tomatoes, 4 to 6 bell pepper strips, and about 1 tablespoon toasted pine nuts over the pesto. Repeat layers until all ingredients are used (reserving some of the pine nuts to sprinkle on top), pressing down well between layers. Chill overnight or for several days.

Serve at room temperature on a platter wreathed with fresh basil sprigs. Additional toasted pine nuts, sun-dried tomatoes cut into flowers, red bell pepper strips, and fresh basil sprigs may be used as garnish.

NOTE: Torta may be presented inverted or not. Keeps several weeks refrigerated. Although best served at room temperature, it slices best chilled. I like to serve it on a platter adorned with grape leaves and small clusters of red and white grapes.

VARIATIONS: Use lemon pesto; substitute slivered toasted almonds for the pine nuts; omit the sun-dried tomatoes and add 1 teaspoon lemon zest to the cream cheese mixture.

Use purple pesto; omit the red pepper if desired and increase the sun-dried tomatoes.

Use cinnamon basil pesto; omit the sun-dried tomatoes and the red peppers if desired, and use pecans instead of pine nuts.

Per Serving: 120 Cal (87% from Fat, 7% from Protein, 6% from Carb); 2 g Protein; 12 g Tot Fat; 2 g Carb; 0 g Fiber; 18 mg Calcium; 1 mg Iron; 95 mg Sodium; 31 mg Cholesterol

Crispy Lamb Chops with Thyme Sauce

---

Yield: 4 servings

12 lamb chops, well trimmed
Salt and pepper
2 cup grated cauliflower
1 egg
1 tablespoon fresh basil, thinly sliced
4 cups vegetable oil

Thyme Sauce

6 sprigs fresh thyme
1 cup white wine
1 tablespoon chopped garlic
1 tablespoon chopped shallot
1 bay leaf
Juice of 1 lemon
1/2 cup heavy cream
1/2 pound cold butter, cut into small pieces
Salt and pepper

Garnish

4 sprigs fresh thyme

Season the lamb chops with the salt and pepper, and set them aside.

In a medium bowl place the cauliflower, egg, and basil. Add a dash of the salt and pepper. Mix the ingredients together well. Squeeze the mixture together with your hands to remove any excess water. Firmly pack the cauliflower mixture around the lamb chops so that they are coated.

In a large saucepan place the vegetable oil and heat it on medium high until it is hot (350F). Deep-fry the coated lamb chops for 5 to 7 minutes, or until the crust is crisp and golden brown, and the lamb is cooked to the desired doneness.

On each of 4 individual serving plates place the Thyme Sauce. Place 3 lamb chops on top. Garnish the dish with a sprig of thyme.

THYME SAUCE: In a small saucepan place the thyme, white wine, garlic, shallots, bay leaf, and lemon juice. Heat the ingredients on medium low and let them cook for 12 to 15 minutes, or until the liquid is reduced to 1/3. Add the heavy cream and simmer it for 12 to 15 minutes, or until the liquid is reduced to 1/2. While whisking constantly, add the pieces of butter one at a time. Season the sauce with the salt and the pepper. Strain the sauce.

Greek Souvlaki with Tzaziki

Yield: 6 servings

Souvlaki

2 pounds lamb shoulder or 2 pound sirloin tip in 1 1/2-inch chunks
2 cups dry red wine
2 garlic cloves, minced
1 teaspoon dried oregano
2 teaspoons lemon rind, long strips
1/4 cup olive oil
Sweet peppers and cherry tomatoes as needed

Tzaziki

2 cups plain yogurt
1/2 English cucumber, peeled and grated
2 garlic cloves, minced
3 tablespoons olive oil
1 teaspoon salt

Begin preparing the tzaziki a few hours before serving. The flavors need time to blend.

Marinate the meat overnight to absorb the wine and garlic.

Souvlaki: Place the meat in a large bowl. Pour in the wine and sprinkle minced garlic and oregano. Imbed the lemon strips among the cubes of meat and drizzle with olive oil. Cover tightly with plastic wrap and refrigerate 12 hours or overnight. Shake or stir the mixture several times during the marinating period.

About 30 minutes before serving, drain off and discard the marinade. Thread the chunks of meat onto long skewers, brushing with a little olive oil. (We usually barbecue the peppers and tomatoes on separate skewers but it's really up to the chef.)

Over medium coals, barbecue the souvlaki until it's done the way you like it.

Serve on a bed of rice and pass the tzaziki to spoon on top.

Tzaziki: Line a colander or sieve with cheesecloth (or gauze) and set it over a bowl. Pour in the yogurt and allow it to drip for an hour or so.

After the yogurt has drained, combine it, in a small bowl, with the cucumber and the garlic. Cover the bowl tightly with plastic wrap and refrigerate until just before serving.

While the meat is barbecuing, drizzle the olive oil over the surface, and without stirring, sprinkle on the salt. It needs no mixing – your guests will do that when they dollop it onto their souvlaki.

Makes about 3 cups.
